

Comments and questions about 'Color' panel tab 'Variations'

Not everything tested, but a first observation

1

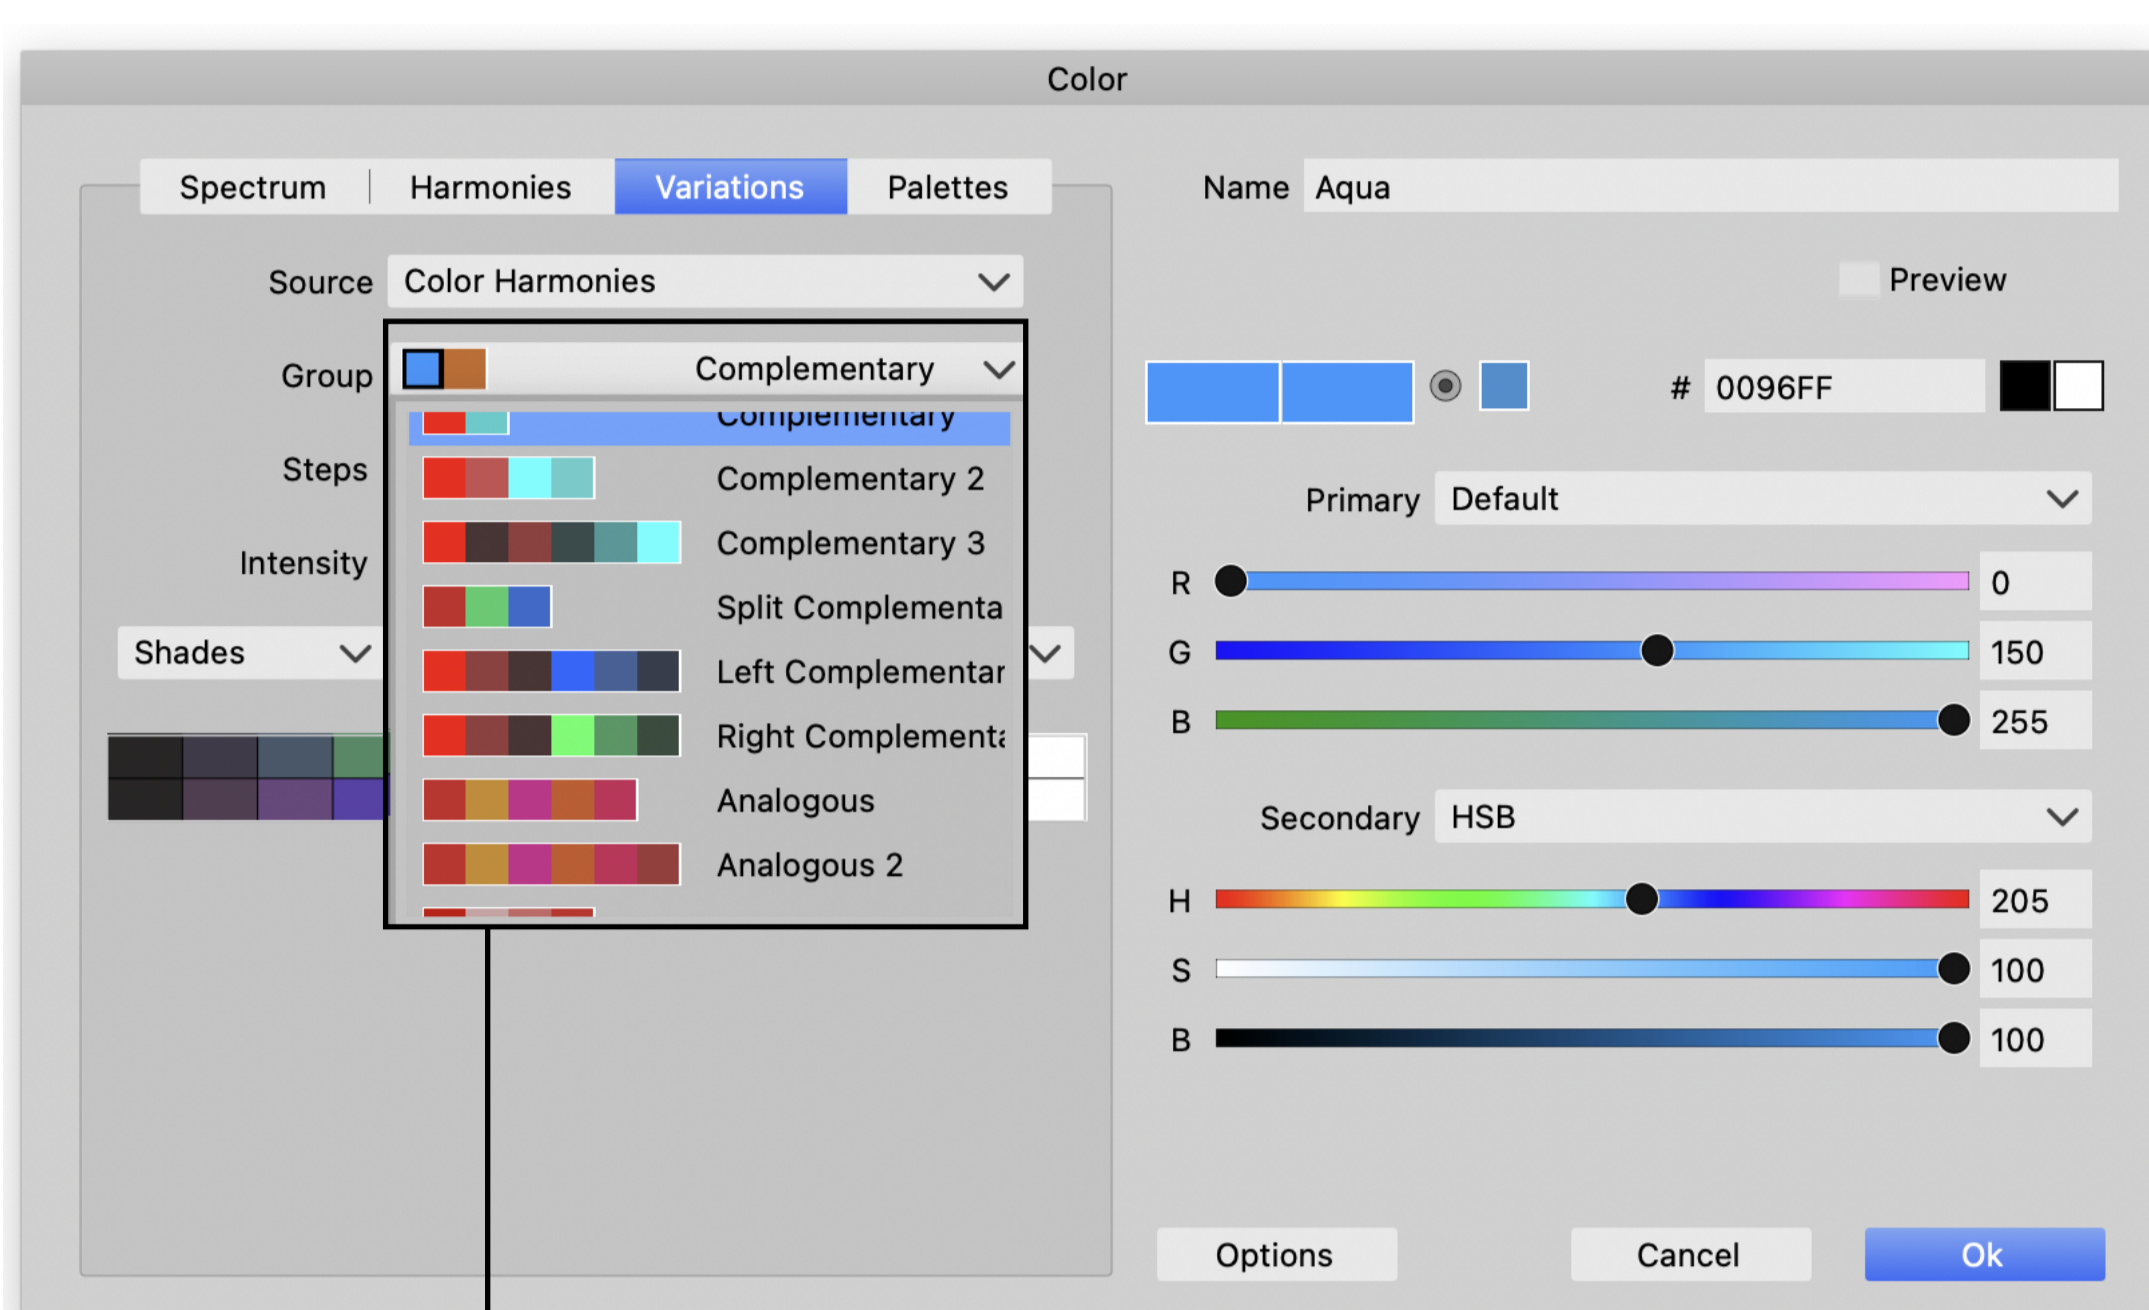

When double click the active color then I get the 'Color' window

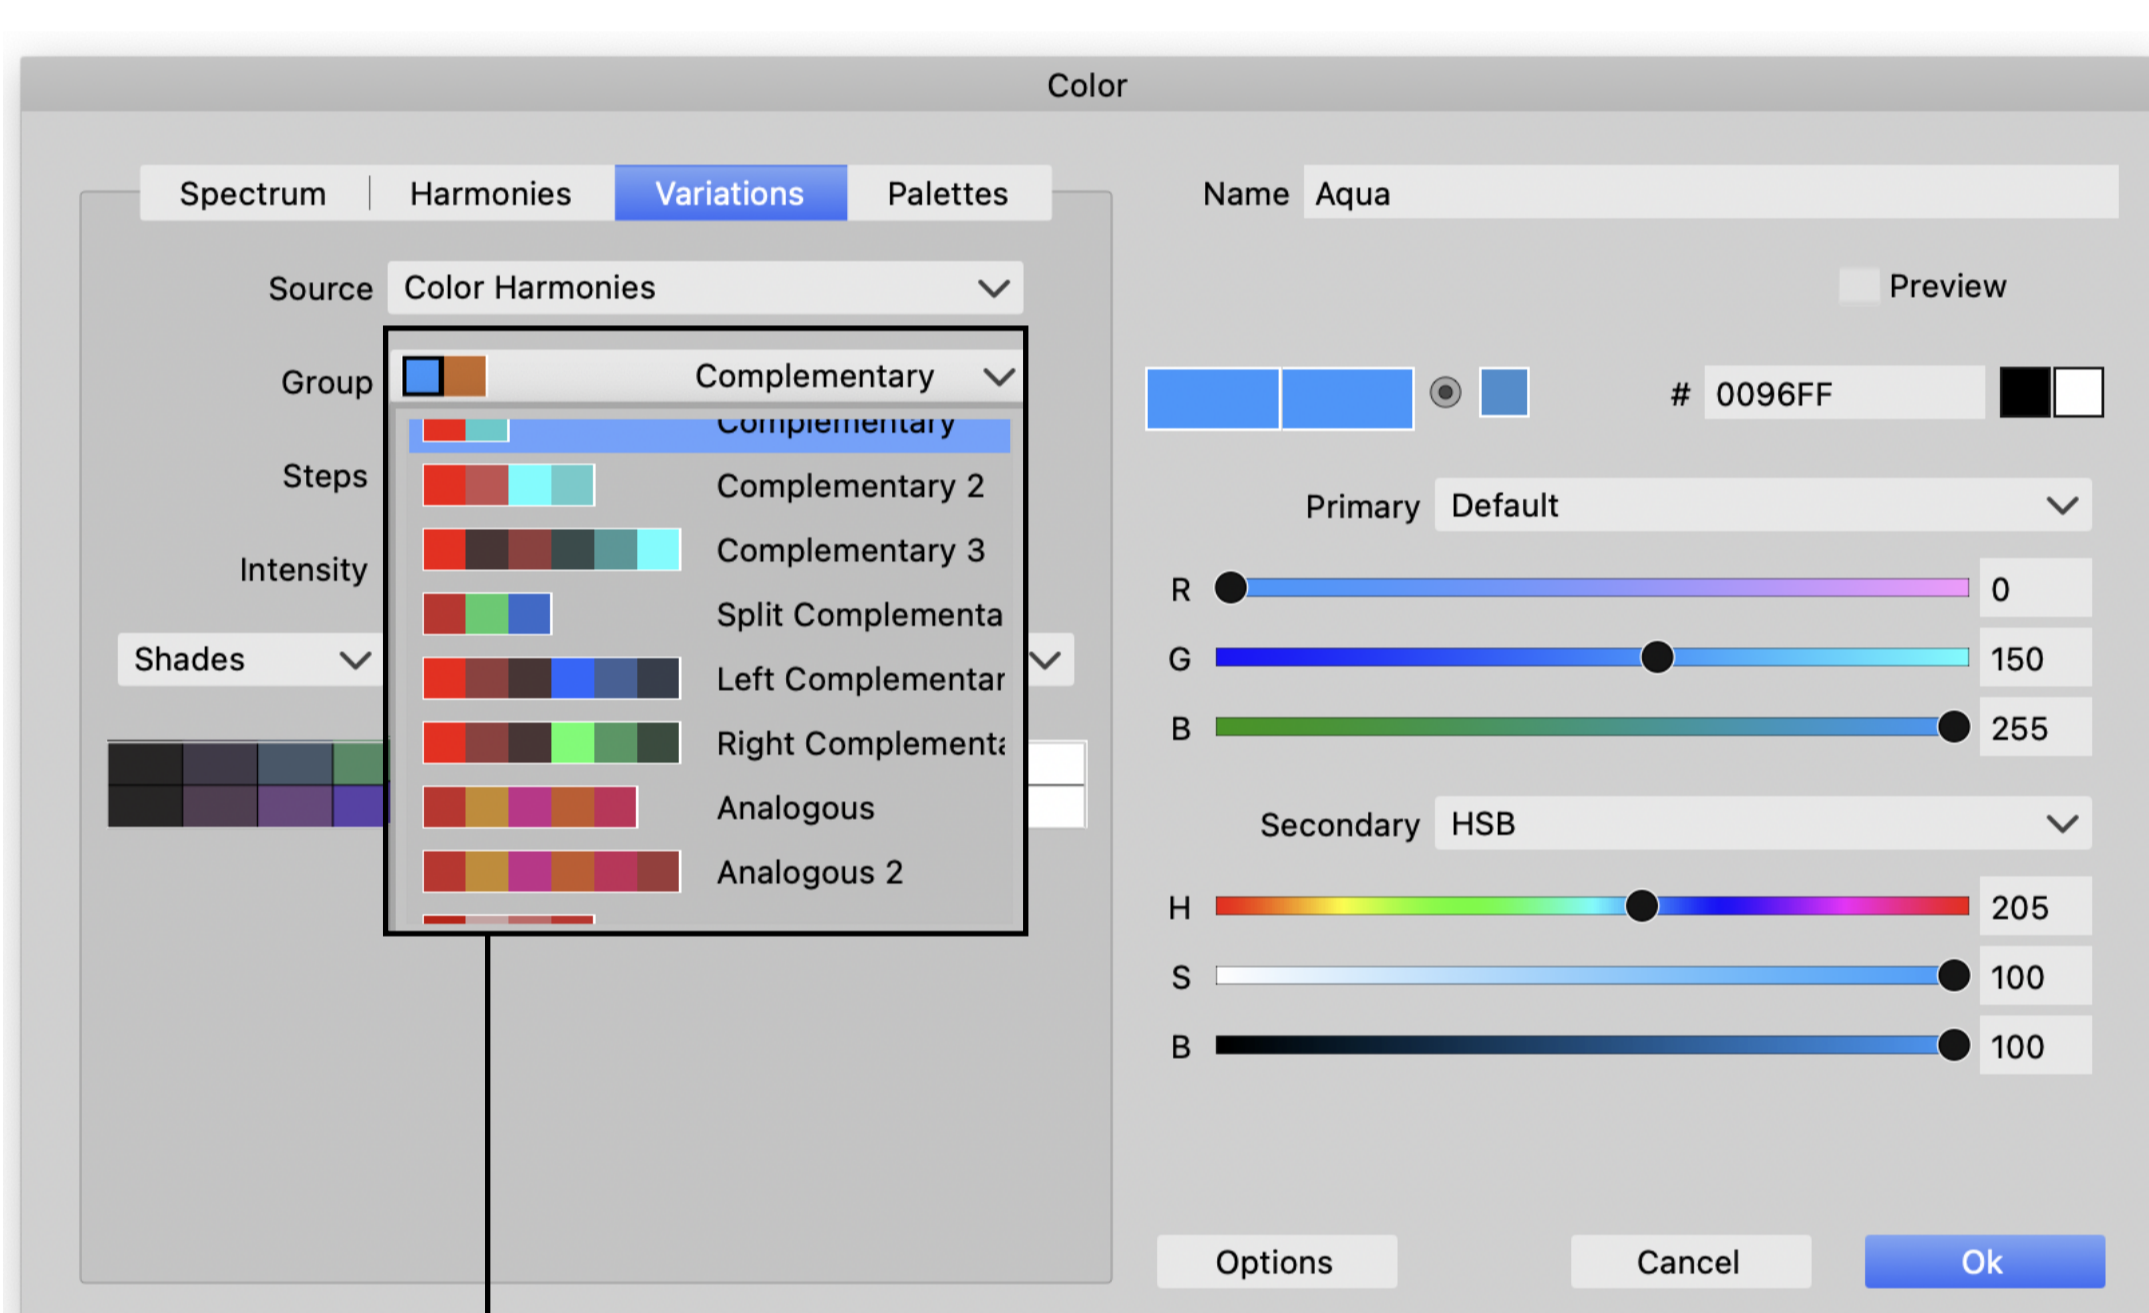

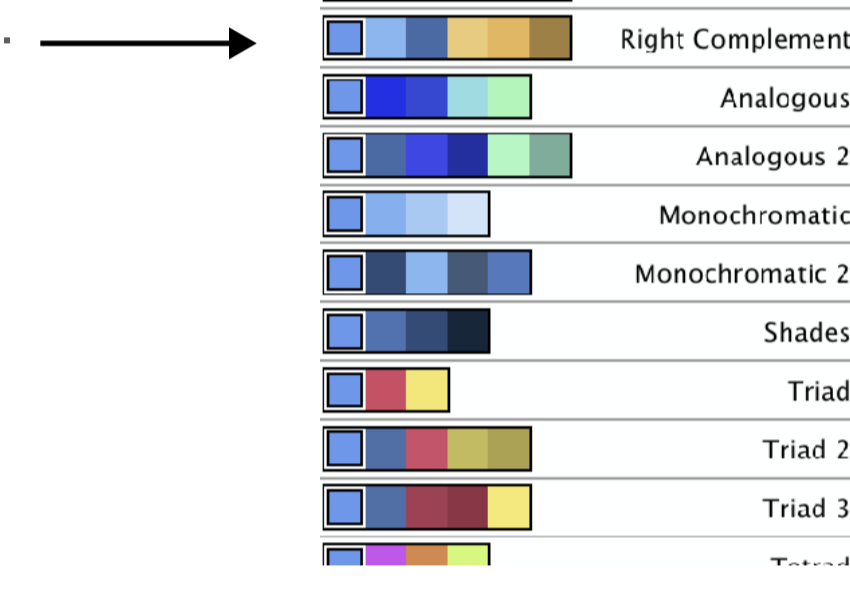

2

Complementary to blue should be orange

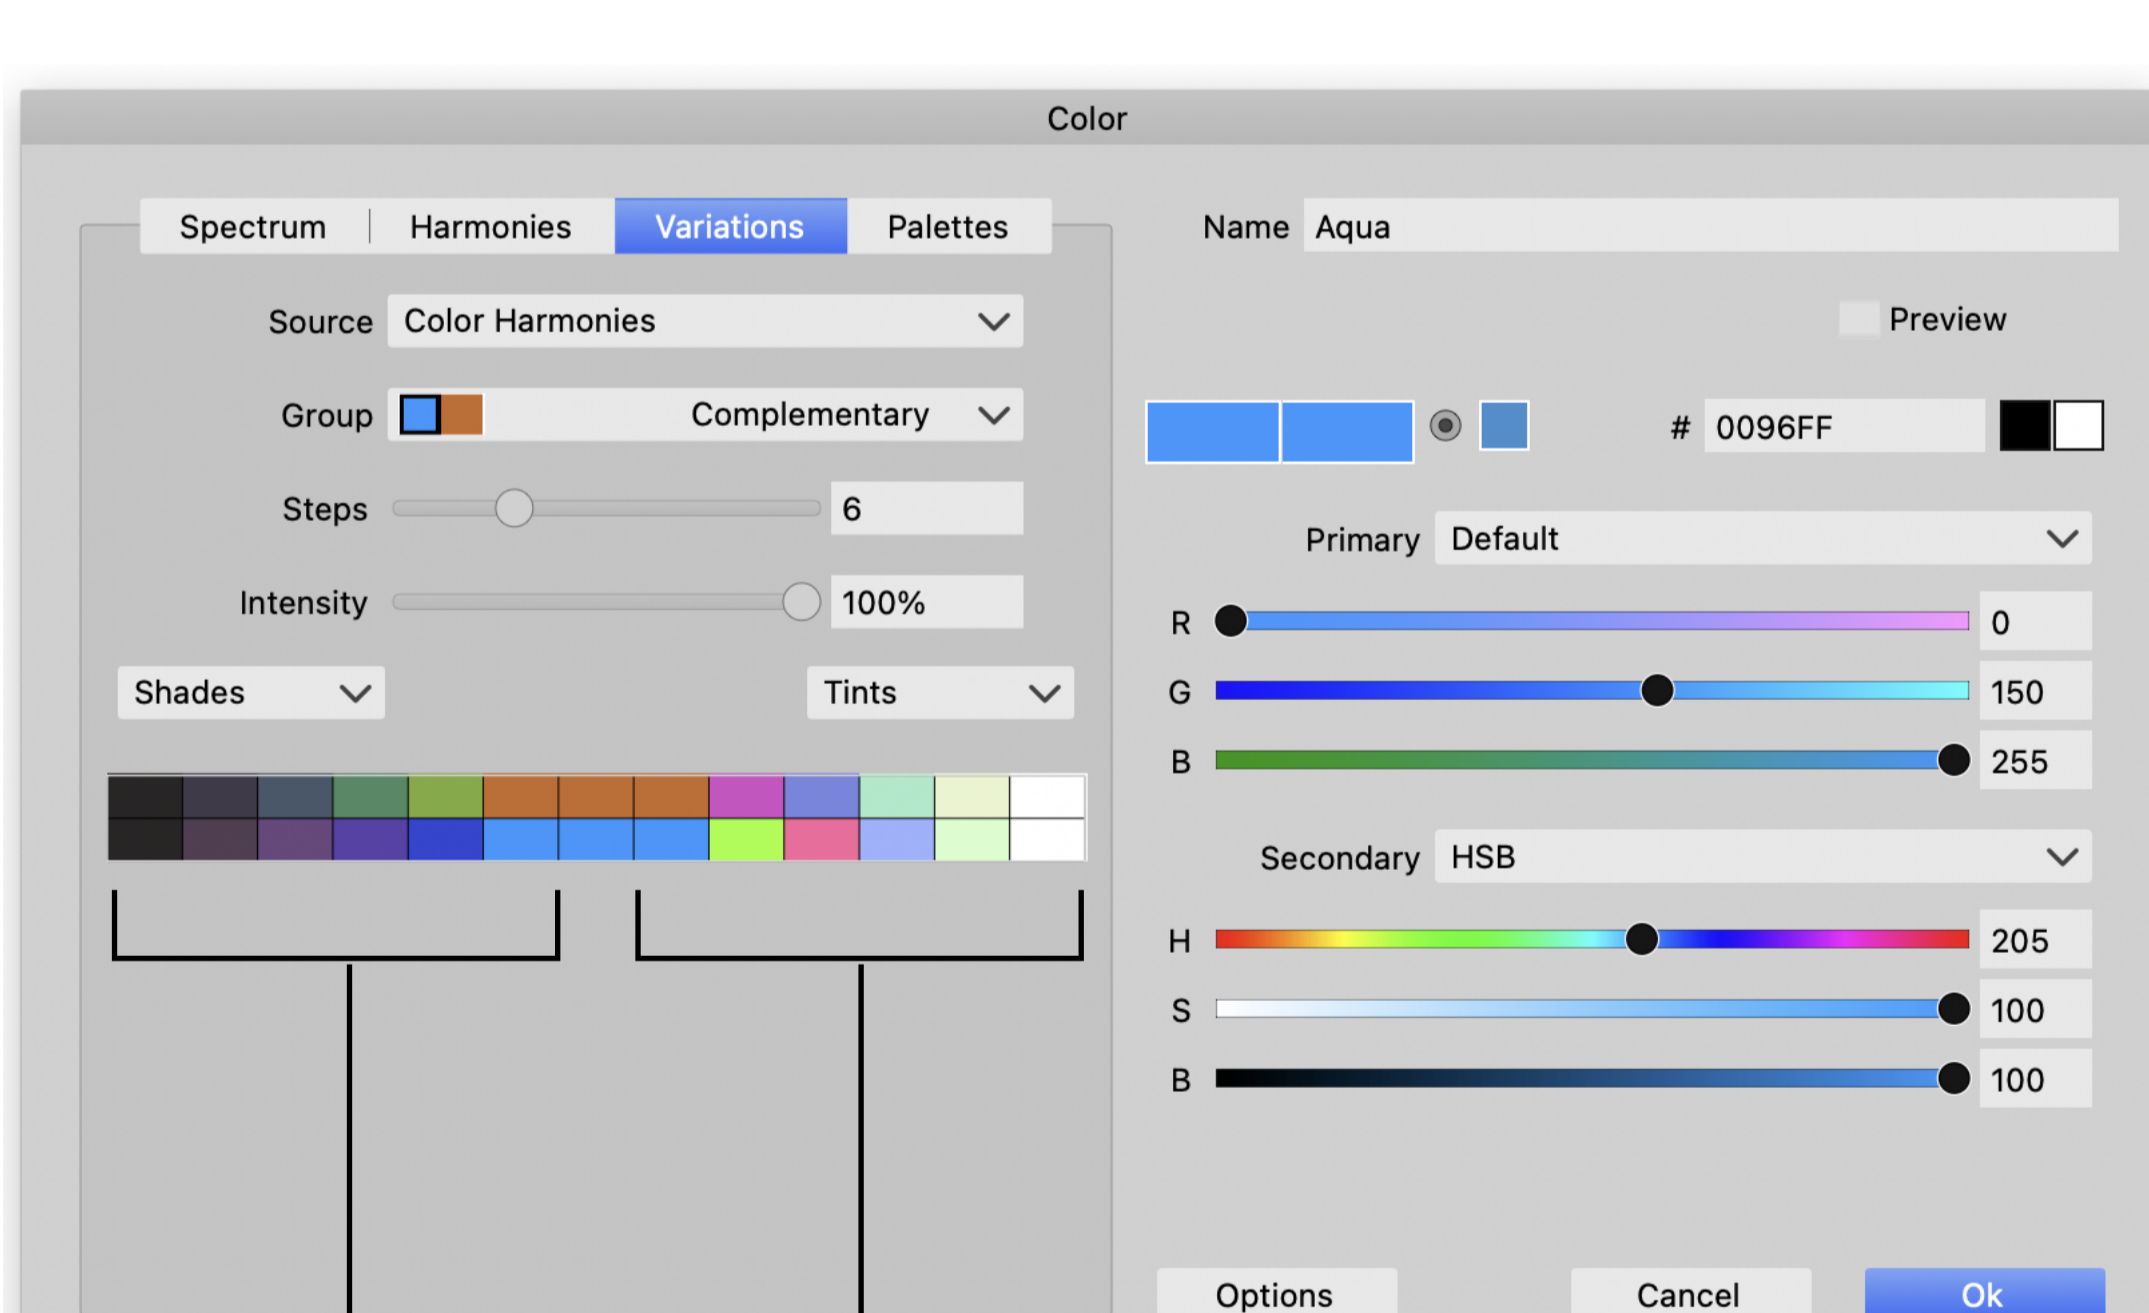

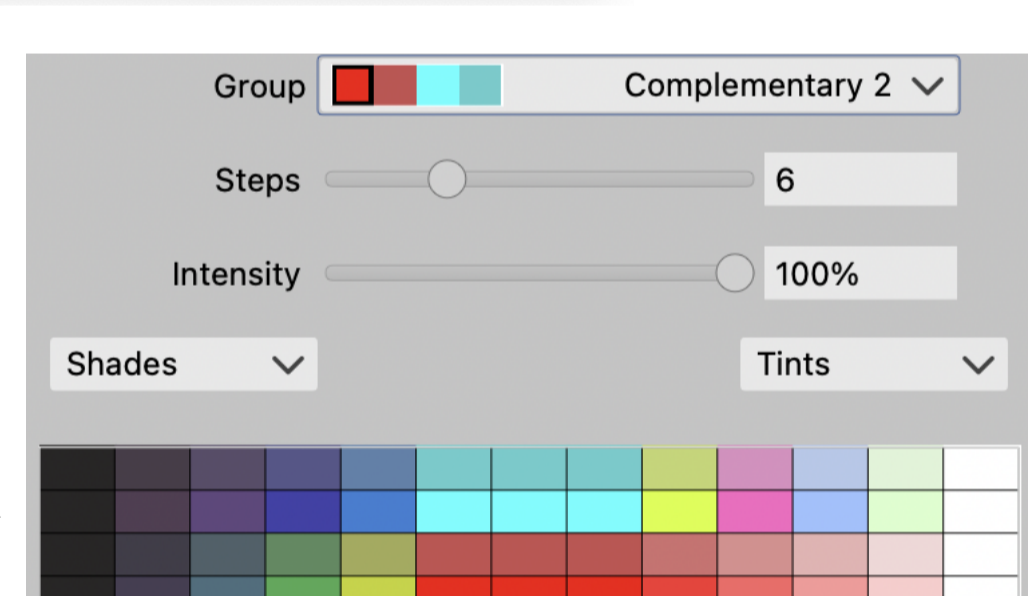

3

Shouldn't the group of options be based on the selected color? Like so...

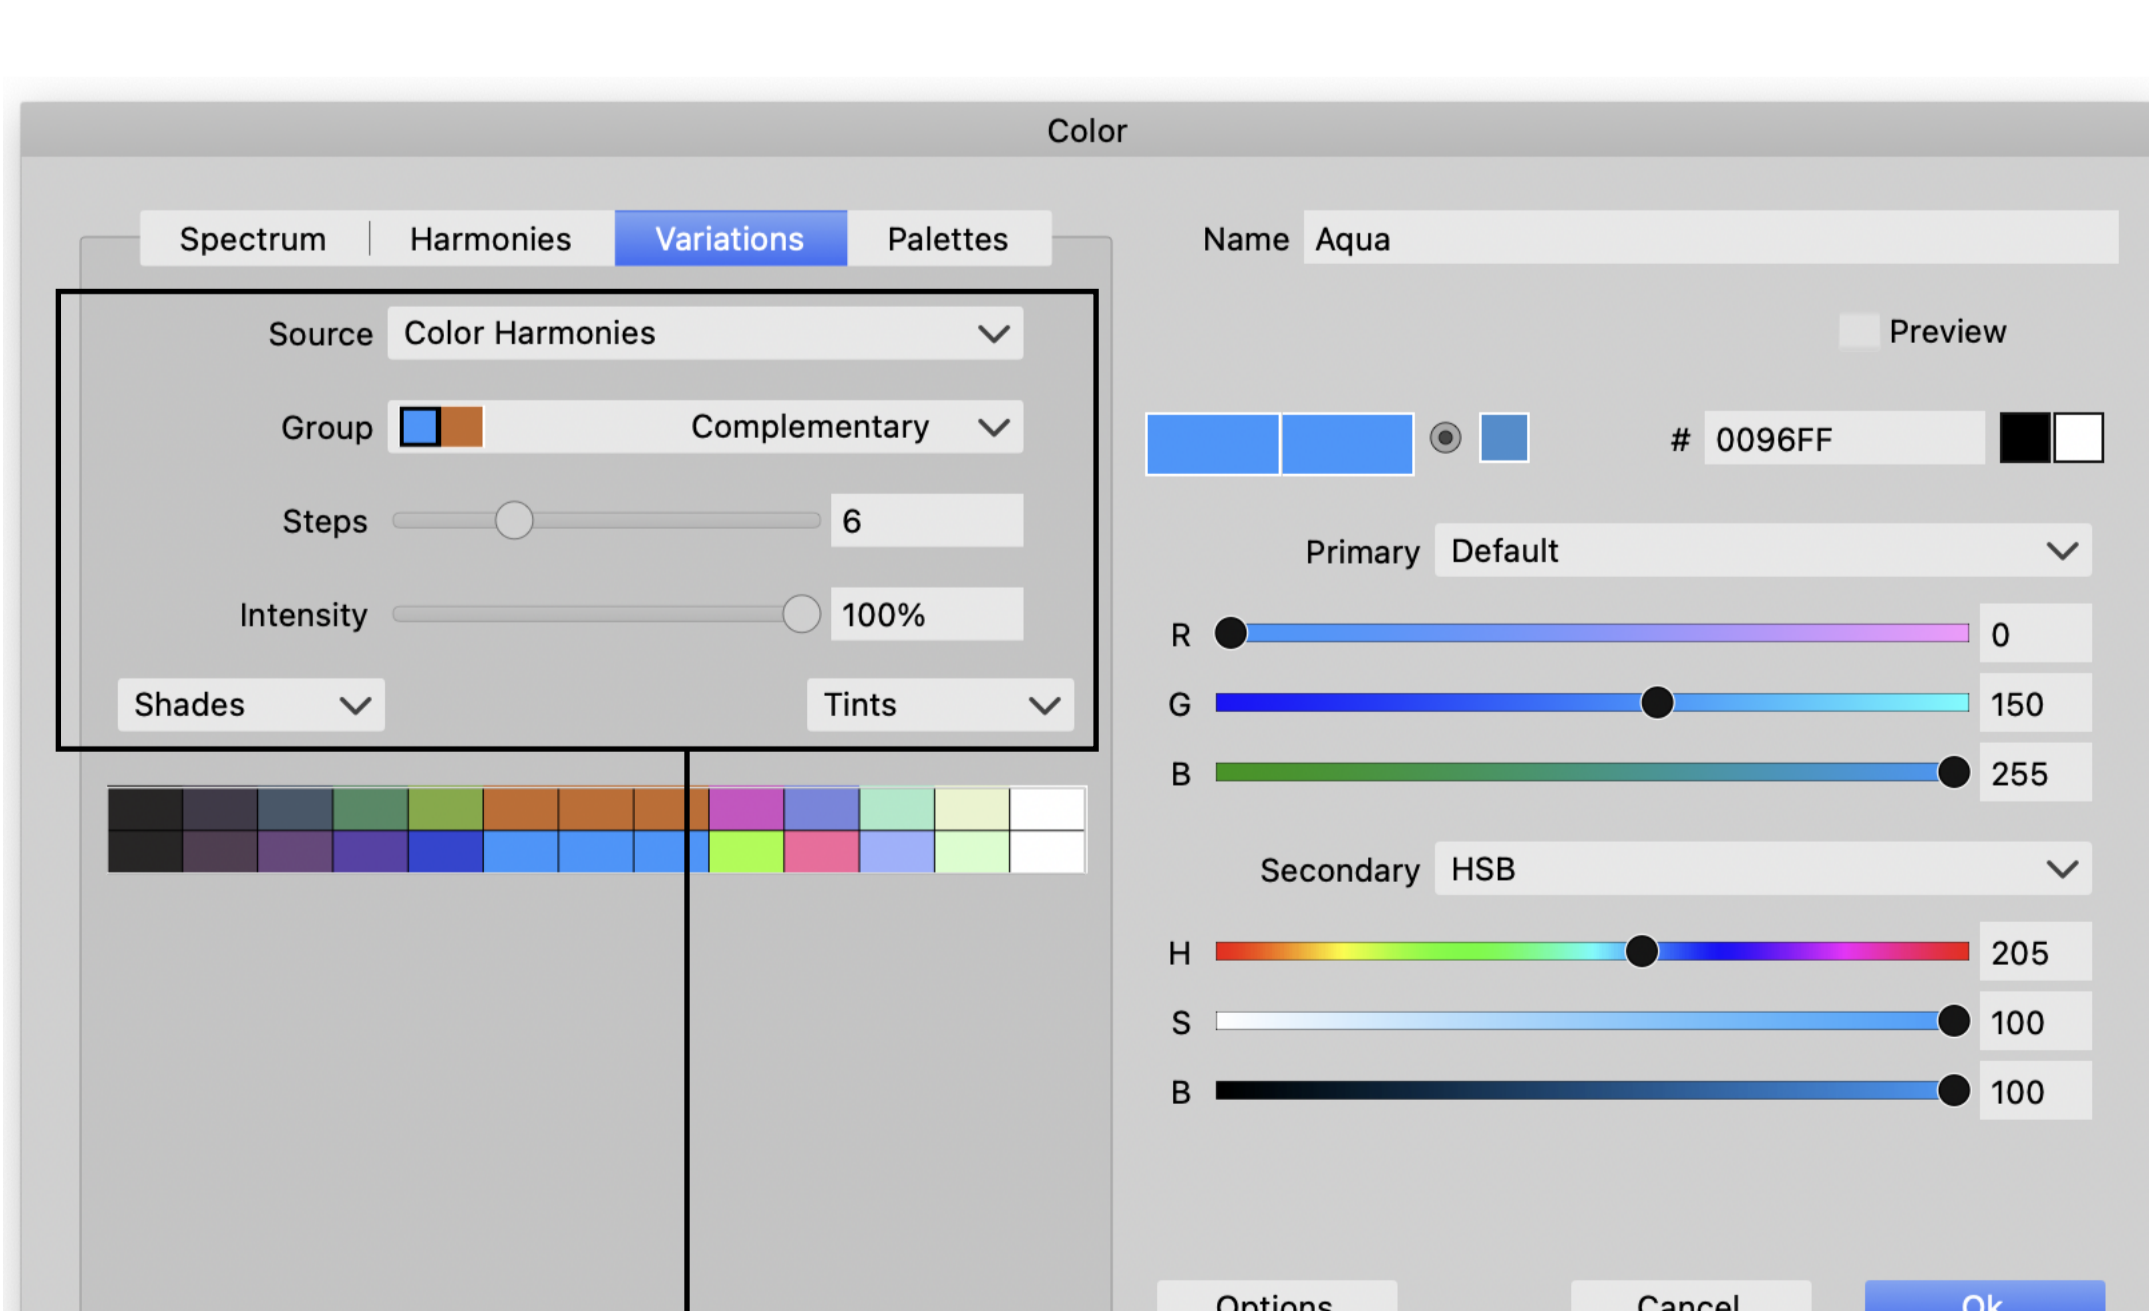

4

If you switch the group from, for example, complementary-1 to complimentary 2 you get this...
Lost the color!

5

These are not tints of the blue and orange
These are not shades of the blue and orange

6

Can the document remember the last setting?

Since this window freezes the rest of your interface, you can't do anything other than close it to do something (work on your palette, for example). If you want to go back to get inspiration or pick a color, you have to set everything again.